Appendix 1

1. Overview of 2023 Health and Safety Initiatives

In 2023, the University spearheaded a series of impactful initiatives to fortify UC's commitment to health, safety, and wellbeing. Our approach is centred on continuous improvement through a strategic combination of capability enhancement, effective systems, proactive risk management, and collaboration and engagement. These initiatives encompassed various facets of our operations, reflecting our dedication to fostering a secure and supportive environment for all university community members. Here is an overview of the key initiatives undertaken during the year:

1. WIL System: The Work-integrated Learning (software) system was introduced to enhance the safety and well-being of students undertaking practical learning experiences. This initiative focused on ensuring students gain hands-on experience in a safe and supervised environment.
2. CAPE Orange Card: The digitisation of the CAPE Orange Card in Assura represented a significant step towards standardising safety protocols within the school. This card system, designed to highlight and acknowledge heightened safety awareness and training, contributes to the overall culture of vigilance and responsibility within the School of Chemical and Process Engineering.
3. Faculty of Science Lab Safety Project: Recognising the unique safety challenges posed by laboratory environments and hazardous substance management, "Taskforce Science" was established by the Faculty of Science. This involved specialised groups worked towards developing and implementing targeted safety measures and protocols to ensure operational excellence, regulatory compliance, improve risk management and the wellbeing and safety of all laboratory users.
4. Safe365: The Safe365 initiative was launched to instill a continuous focus on health and safety. This ongoing programme measures performance and provides management insights that enable a consistent organisational approach to improving health and safety by developing and tracking local, targeted objectives for each faculty/group.
5. Executive Health and Safety Plans: Acknowledging leadership's pivotal role in setting the tone for a safety-conscious culture, Executive Health and Safety Plans were implemented. These plans outline university leadership's commitment to prioritising and championing health and safety initiatives at the highest level.
6. Assura Student Integration: The initiative aims to seamlessly incorporate students into the Assura health and safety reporting system, ensuring that health and safety considerations become part of their academic journey.
7. T5 Critical Risk Controls Assurance Process: The T5 Critical Risk Controls assurance process represents a meticulous and systematic approach to assessing and ensuring the effectiveness of critical risk controls across various university operations.

2. Emergency Management

The Emergency Management Team at UC conducted its annual exercise in November, focusing on the Incident Management Team (IMT) to test Business Continuity Plans (BCPs) and emergency management arrangements. The 2023 exercise simulated a real-time gas leak at the Chemical Engineering Laboratory, involving over 60 participants from various departments and agencies. FENZ led the response, and a notable aspect was a media stand-up session, emphasising the importance of a unified and timely multi-agency response. The exercise also tested the D4H software for incident management and intelligence sharing between UC IMT and CDEM, showcasing UC's unique capability in New Zealand. Outcomes included strengthened partnerships, streamlined business continuity processes, insights for the 2024 IMT training, and collaborative projects between UC Emergency Management and Emergency Services, such as co-developing Emergency Mobile Alerts with CDEM for UC-related incidents.

3. New Employee Assistance Programme Provider

Following a recent review of our support provision and a thorough procurement process, People and Culture has engaged a new employee assistance programme provider. TELUS Health is the world's largest employee assistance provider across 180 countries, supporting 35 million individuals. With over 30 years of experience with large organisations, including tertiary institutions in NZ (Otago, Victoria, Waikato) and Australia (University of Sydney, Griffith, Monash), they will provide confidential support to our staff and their immediate families. In addition to providing counselling support for mental health, financial, career, and legal support, TELUS offers an enhanced suite of wellbeing resources including a comprehensive wellbeing platform, complemented by programmes, toolkits, and resources. Notable features of the programme include 24/7 access to a National Client Care Centre, live chat with in-house psychologists, swift in-person and digital appointments, and tailored support for diverse communities. The programme also provides mental health assessments, total wellbeing assessments, and trauma support. This initiative reflects the university's ongoing commitment to enhancing the overall health and wellbeing of its staff and family members.

Health and Safety Performance Summary

The Health and Safety performance summary demonstrates the ongoing commitment to proactive reporting and addressing potential hazards to ensure the well-being and safety of our staff, students, and visitors. This commentary provides an overview and interpretation of the data tables contained in Appendix 2 (a-c).

1. T5 Risk Incidents

From October through December 2023, 54 health and safety reports and 4 safety observations related to T5 risks were recorded. The health and safety reports can be categorised as follows:

- 24 reports of poor well-being related to ergonomic and environmental conditions (musculoskeletal pain), concerns about student welfare, and personal medical issues.
- 7 incident reports involving hazardous substances, e.g., paint fumes, chemical spills, lab PPE not worn, and a minor acid burn.
- 2 reports involving fieldwork related to students being verbally abused by a member of the public and pain/discomfort.
- 17 minor incidents involving plant/machinery, e.g., electrical faults, an overpressure fault on the rotating furnace, 2 low voltage (105 volts) shocks from touching a screw that had penetrated an electrical wire inside a junction box, 3 minor finger/hand injuries while using workshop equipment; window cleaning monorail malfunction (not in use at the time), lift breakdowns.

The T5 risk incidents for 21% of the total reports received in 2023- Poor wellbeing (7%), Plant/Machinery (5%), Hazardous Substances (4%), Fieldwork/isolated work (2%), Vehicles/Travel (1%). This highlights the importance of maintaining a vigilant approach to managing critical health and safety risks within our organisation. In 2024, we will review the university's health and safety risks again to ensure we identify any new or emerging critical risks.

- The university received 276 health and safety reports, including 148 incident reports, 71 near misses (where no harm occurred), and 83 safety observations. All identified concerns or issues have been or are in the process of being addressed by management.
- Among the illness/injury/P&D incidents reported, the personal impact (severity) score was rated as low in 55 cases and moderate in 19 cases per below.
  - 55 incidents resulted in no treatment or required first aid, including 21 reports of pain/discomfort.
  - 9 moderate-severity reports of musculoskeletal pain (neck, shoulders, back, knee, hip) resulting in assessment/treatment by a registered health professional.
  - 19 moderate-severity reports of assessment/treatment by a registered health professional for sprains, cuts, grazes, contusions, neck and back pain.
  - 1 staff member went to the emergency department at Christchurch Hospital after falling over onto their wrist. The injury was confirmed as bruising only.

- An alumnus died suddenly (of natural causes) at a UC 150th Anniversary event in Wellington. UC staff and other attendees were first responders to the incident. Ambulance and Police attended the scene. The attending staff was advised to seek support and counselling if needed. The Director of Advancement and Events Team has reviewed the health and safety plan template for alumni events, which is updated to include a scenario for a guest's or other attendee's death.
- Near misses included security issues, lift malfunctions, behavioural concerns about members of the public (4), breaches of lab safety and PPE requirements (5), damage caused by fallen tree branches, false positive asbestos air monitoring results, and chemical spills (2).
- Safety Observations- 18 unsafe practice observations and 43 unsafe condition reports, 17 improvement suggestions, and 6 safe practice reports were received.

b) 2023 Overview (Jan-Dec 23)

- In 2023, the university received 1209 health and safety reports. These reports comprised:
  - 593 incident reports, including 239 near misses (where no harm occurred), 163 injuries, and 156 pain/discomfort incidents.
  - 313 safety observations.
  - 303 assigned actions completed.
  - 1 notifiable contractor incident (minor harm) reported to but not investigated by WorkSafe.

Compared to 2022, 2023 showed an overall 60% increase in health and safety reporting. Across individual reporting categories, this includes a 65% increase in incidents reported, a 70% increase in near-miss reporting, and a 63% increase in safety observations. There was also a 40% increase in actions completed in 2023.

This growth in reporting over the past 12 months reflects staff and students' growing awareness and willingness to report health and safety incidents or concerns to management, which should be celebrated and encouraged.

January 2024

Introduction

Our 150th year celebrations came to a conclusion with a festive gathering for all staff on 15 December before most staff began a well-deserved holiday break.

At the end of last year we received the Academic Quality Agency's Academic Audit report for University of Canterbury. It was pleasing to see the long list of commendations and affirmations, and the confirmation that "UC meets, and in many areas exceeds, the outcomes and standards of a university of good international standing". Given the direction we have pursued since 2019, I was especially pleased that "The Panel commends the University's consultative and engagement-oriented approach to strategy development and change, led by the Vice-Chancellor and reflected throughout the University". The report includes several commendations of excellent practice at UC, which is a testament to the collective effort and dedication of our entire community. There were also constructive recommendations for UC to address, including the introduction of a new curriculum management system, which is now underway.

Eleven UC academic staff and alumni were among the New Year Honours list for 2024. Notably, Professor Tim Bell, Lecturer in Computer Science and Software Engineering, has been made a Companion of the New Zealand Order of Merit (CNZM) for his services to computer science education over the past 40 years. UC Law (Honours) graduate David Beeche, Chief Executive Officer of the FIFA Women's World Cup Australia and New Zealand in 2023, has been made a Companion of the New Zealand Order of Merit for services to sports administration. Other UC alumni honoured included Dr Kevin Trenberth, Bachelor of Science (Honours), a climate change scientist who was appointed a CNZM for services to geophysics, and Philip (Pip) Cheshire, Bachelor of Arts, appointed a CNZM for services to architecture.

As we look forward to the 2024 academic year, we are excited to welcome new and returning students. Preparations are underway for Welcome Day on 16 February where new students and their whānau will have the opportunity to familiarise themselves with the people and campus through a programme of orientation events. The current enrolment numbers are encouraging, showing planned growth in alignment with the 2024 budget.

Engagement

Nearly 100 people attended the capstone public event of the sesquicentennial anniversary with the launch of A New History: The University of Canterbury 1873- 2023 by Canterbury University Press at the Great Hall in the Arts Centre on 12 December.

Engagement with government and local partners is ongoing. At the end of the year, we hosted long-standing and newly elected Canterbury MPs on campus to discuss our strategic direction and they walked through the renovated spaces for the Digital Screen Programme. The delegation included Canterbury MPs Hon Dr Megan Woods, Hon Dr Duncan Webb, Dr Vanessa Weenink, Dr Hamish Campbell, Hon Matt Doocoy, Reuben Davidson, Laura Trask and Kahurangi Carter.

Earlier this month the UC Structural Engineering Laboratory (SEL) hosted Ilam MP Dr Hamish Campbell to showcase our ongoing seismic research.

Brett Berquist recently attended a meeting with Selwyn District Council CEO Sharon Mason, Lincoln University Vice-Chancellor and school principals from the Selwyn region, to explore areas of collaboration in addressing the challenges of meeting the needs of the local community during a period of rapid expansion. UC remains committed to community impact and close collaboration with schools, access and student success.

On 30 November the UC Business School's Centre for Entrepreneurship delivered The Challenge event in partnership with ChristchurchNZ and with support from Smart Christchurch and The Health Technology Centre. During this event innovative health and technology inventions were displayed at the Christchurch Arts Centre. The 17 ventures that took part in the 10-week Validator programme showcased their entrepreneurial ideas at the evening, with the top 8 taking to the stage to pitch their ideas in person.

On 19 January, 62 UC staff participated in the Crusaders Long Run, a relay event with the goal of reaching 10 000 laps in conjunction with the Crusaders and other teams and individuals, to raise money for the Child Cancer Foundation.

Education – Accessible, Flexible Future Focussed

The completion of degrees was a highlight for many with 1617 students having their qualifications conferred at the end of 2023. We look forward to celebrating with many of them at the April graduation ceremonies. End of year data has also revealed improvements in first year retention rates for Māori (+4%) and Pacific students (+6%) and improving student satisfaction with teaching quality and their overall experience at UC.

Even before the start of 2024 academic year, many students are currently studying. In addition to the Takere students, summer school has just over 2000 students looking to complete courses. This period also sees the launch of two new UC online qualifications, Master of Applied Data Science (ADS) and the Postgraduate Certificate in Strategic Leadership. Two new short courses were launched including the final course of the Wellbeing series, Lifestyle and Wellbeing, and a Professional Project Management course.

Library business continued throughout summer with research and summer students, and preparing new events for orientation. Staff are also preparing for the implementation of the new Library Management System. The new system will mean better services for students and staff and will be available for students in time for the start of Semester 1.

Research – Impact on a Changing World

An innovative technology that allows Type 2 Diabetes risk assessments to be carried out in the comfort of people's own homes took out the top award in the 2023 HealthTech Challenge. Ceratec Health was named the HealthTech Challenge 2023 Overall Winner at a showcase and award evening held at the Christchurch Arts Centre on 30 November.

UC is celebrating the first successful grant from Horizons Europe. The Civil and Natural Resources Engineering team will be exploring "Mitigating environmental disruptive events using people-centric predictive digital technologies to improve disaster and climate resilience" as part of a large international team including other New Zealand partners and led by Trinity College Dublin. New Zealand only became eligible for Horizons Europe funding in 2023.

There were three high profile publications recently accepted in prestigious journals: Dr Matiu Prebble and an international team reported on "Floristic homogenization of South Pacific islands commenced with human arrival." In Nature Ecology and Evolution Associate Professor Mads Thomsen and an international team studied "Herbivory limits success of vegetation restoration globally." In Science Professor Renwick Dobson and his students described "Structure and mechanism of a tripartite ATP-independent periplasmic TRAP transporter" in Nature Communications.

Dr Tufulasi Taleni, Faculty of Education, received the Pasifica Community Researcher Award from Community Research and the Pacific Circle Consortium's Peter Brice Award.

People – Nurturing Staff, Thriving Students

Kate Brooks will join the Facilities Management Team in February as Asbestos Manager. Kate, a qualified asbestos specialist whose last role was with the Canterbury District Health Board, will head up a new FM Health and Safety team that will also have a generalist health and safety role, and a building compliance role.

The first virtual wellbeing seminar of the year, offered in late January, was “Power up the Positive: Harness the Benefits of Positive Emotions”. This workshop focussed on emotions that boost creativity and productivity, improve health and reduce stress. Participants learnt strategies to experience these emotions more often, and how to reset to use them when needed.

A new online course on Te Reo basics is available to all staff. The programme has seven modules and an average completion time of twelve hours.

The Accommodation Services and Facilities Management teams have refurbished a number of houses on campus so that they can be used as student accommodation. This will provide approximately 60 additional beds for non-first year students, thereby freeing up space in the student halls. The houses will be managed by Unilodge.

UCSA ran a Summer Series of social events throughout January and early February. This included a picnic for Postgraduate students.

On 1 December we celebrated the achievements of 90 academic and professional staff at Hui Whakamānawa | Celebration of Success. The awards spanned newly appointed professors, Values Awards, Health, Safety and Wellbeing Awards, Sustainability Awards, Teaching Awards, Early and Emerging Career Awards, Capability Development Awards, HEA fellows, Teaching scholarships and Long Serving staff. National awards including Ako Aotearoa teaching awards and Royal Society awards were also recognised on the day.

Internationalisation – Locally Engaged, Globally Networked

We ended 2023 with global recognition for Sure to Rise: The Edmonds Story by Peter Alsop, Kate Parsons and Richard Wolfe (Canterbury University Press, 2023) being announced as the winner in the Culinary History category in the Gourmand 2023 World Cookbook Awards.

Our summer school program continued with the hosting of 130 attendees from articulation partner universities in China, at our two-week experiential Global Competency Development Program in January. The program aims to promote our degree and study abroad programs to prospective students, and is a key marketing activity for our international education function.

Executive Dean of Engineering, Saurabh Sinha, along with Pedro Lee, Associate Dean Engineering, and Assistant Vice-Chancellor Brett Berquist attended the Australian Education Management Group’s Hand in Hand Workshop on 31 January. They met with senior representatives of Australian, US, UK and New Zealand Universities that operate successful transnational education programs, to better inform UC’s transnational education planning.

Organisational Efficacy – of a sustainable scale by 2030

The University is in the process of Audit NZ undertaking UC’s external audit for the financial year end 31 December 2023.

After discussion and review, the UC Council decided to modify the University’s Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) in the UC Investment Plan 2022-2024 to better reflect realistic stretch targets in the post-COVID educational environment. This change to the Investment Plan (a statutory requirement) was submitted to the Tertiary Education Commission (TEC), and the Commission approved these changes in November 2023.

UC's progress in transforming its digital architecture and capabilities was recently recognised by the CIO magazine. The Chief Digital Officer, Michael Oulsnam, was ranked 8th in the top 50 CIOs in Technology in New Zealand. The position reflects the significant delivery and progress of the Digital Services team in the past 3 years. During the same ceremony our Chief Information Security Officer, Rudo Tagwireyi, was awarded the Next CIO award by CIO magazine. This award recognises Rudo's extensive work to transform UC's digital security and risk management, having led the Security strategy and programme.

Digital Screen Project facilities ready for Semester 1 are Enhanced Learning Spaces in Ōtākaro, Digital Production Studio Facilities and Innovative Virtual Production Sets.

The Ann Ballin building project has achieved practical completion and the building was handed back to the School of Psychology, Speech and Hearing in January. Staff have provided positive feedback on their refreshed environment. The building will be ready for teaching from the start of term two as planned.

Environmentally Sustainable

With our continuing commitment to the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), I am pleased that Te Kura Umanga | University of Canterbury Business School has been selected as one of the new cohort of Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) Champions for 2024-2025. As well as recognition for delivering value for business and society at large, PRME Champion status represents the UC Business School's commitment to work collaboratively to develop and promote activities that address shared barriers for the PRME community, with sustainability an important pillar of this work. The UC Business School joins 47 international Business Schools as PRME Champions.

In a major milestone, the boilers on the Ilam campus were commissioned to burn biomass at the end of 2023, as the conversion from coal burning is now complete. Final touches, such as new asphalt, are being finalised in the delivery yard to restore the area to a clean working site now the contractors have finished. This conversion removes a considerable proportion of the Ilam campus carbon footprint.

UC received top results in the annual QS sustainability rankings for 2023. In addition to an overall ranking of 86, UC is placed in the top 10 worldwide for environmental education.

Associate Professor Elizabeth Macpherson, from the Faculty of Law, won the Advancing Sustainability Research Award for her contribution to environmental and natural resources law, and her focus on addressing global environmental challenges. School of Forestry Associate Professor Justin Morgenroth won the Advancing Sustainability Knowledge Award for his work over the past decade, taking first-year Forestry students to the Pūharakekenui Styx River in Ōtautahi Christchurch to undertake restoration planting in partnership with the Christchurch City Council. Ngāi Tahu Centre Senior Research Fellow Dr John Reid (Ngāti Pikiao, Tainui) won the Protecting Our Planet Award for his work to boost the health of UC's waterways.

UC and UCSA signed the Edible Canterbury Charter in December 2023 to support Canterbury's food resilience preparedness.

1. Name of Qualification(s)

Postgraduate Certificate in Specialist Teaching (PGCertSpecTchg)
 Postgraduate Diploma in Specialist Teaching (PGDipSpecTchg)

2. CUAP Unique Identifier (Academic Quality to provide)

This is an identifier used by CUAP during the approval and peer review process.

3. Rationale

Both the PGCertSpecTchg and PGDipSpecTchg were introduced in 2011, as a result of an initiative to provide further training and professional development for teaching working in areas such as: Learning and Behaviour, Complex Educational Needs; Deaf and Hard of Hearing; and Early Intervention. UC had a contractual arrangement with the Ministry of Education to enable students to graduate with a qualification in this specialty area.

The PGCertSpecTchg qualification consisted of two 30-point courses studied part-time over one year. The PGDipSpecTchg consisted of four 30-point courses (the first two the same as those in the PGCertSpecTchg qualification) and was studied part-time over 2 years.

UC were not successful in their bid to renew the contract and since the end of 2021 no longer offer the qualifications. Students are now advised to apply through Massey University for these qualifications. Courses have not been offered since the end of 2020 and a check on the system shows that there are no further students requiring to complete study at UC.

It is therefore proposed to discontinue both qualifications at the end of 2023.

4. Impact on Tertiary Sector

There is no impact on the Tertiary Sector.

5. Will the qualification/subject be available at another NZ University?

As mentioned above, these qualifications are offered at Massey University.

Report to CUAP- Programme Deletion (Academic Quality to add CUAP criterion)

Department or School	UC Business School
Faculty	UC Business School
Contact person	Russell Wordsworth	Phone number	3692234

1. Name of Qualification(s)

Bachelor of Commerce (BCom) majoring in Business Economics

2. CUAP Unique Identifier (Academic Quality to provide)

02 UC/14BCOM/1

3. Rationale

- The Business Economics major was introduced into the Bachelor of Commerce (BCom) in 2014 and was intended to attract a new group of students who were interested in applying economic thinking in the context of a business and who perhaps less interested in the mathematical treatment of Economics than the average Economics majoring students. At the time, trends in high school enrolments had seen reduced demand for economics and increased demand for business studies.
- The business economics major has attracted 15-20 students each year since its introduction although degree completions peaked in 2018 with 18 students graduating and since then a decline has occurred with three students completing the degree in 2020. While the total student enrolments in the period from 2018 to 2020 was 88, it had significantly lower numbers of completion (n = 21). As a result the programme was temporarily closed to new students due to low enrolment and completion numbers.
- The 2019 review of the BCom recommended rationalising the number of majors within the BCom (13 at the time), and the deletion of the Business Economics major aligns with this.
- In 2021 the CUAP Graduating Year Review was undertaken for the Business Economics major. The UC Business School Academic Programmes Committee (APC) received the GYR report on 28/9/2021. Based on the GYR report, APC recommended that the Department of Economics and Finance consider the discontinuation of the Business Economics major. The Department supported this decision. The GYR was then discussed at the UC Business School Faculty Board on 18/10/2021, where a motion to discontinue the BCom major in Business Economic was unanimously supported.
- Remaining students in the major will be taught out in 2023 and 2024 or transitioned into other majors. All students have been identified and plans are in place for this.

4. Impact on Tertiary Sector

Minimal. The University of Canterbury BCom still have a strong and popular major in Economics. Any student wanting to major in Economics would have options at UC and all of the other New Zealand universities. Business Economics simply has not proven to be a popular subject choice for students, and most have transitioned into the Economics major. At UC the Bachelor of Commerce will still have 12 majors, offering students considerable choice and flexibility in structuring their degree.

5. Will the qualification/subject be available at another NZ University?

No, as far as we can tell, no other New Zealand university offers Business Economics as a major.
